Building Systemwide Strategic Planning Capacity

As WSU advances through the second half of the academic year, OSPA continues with its efforts to strengthen planning capacity and support alignment across the system through the following activities.

- New Dashboards: The College of Nursing and WSU Pullman Student Affairs have begun actively tracking implementation of their strategic plans, and new dashboards are now available on the strategic plan website. As the first academic college and administrative unit to track progress using our strategic planning platform, this milestone represents an important step in expanding strategic alignment throughout the university.
- Stakeholder Engagement & Environmental Scanning: We are reviewing and updating our stakeholder engagement and environmental scanning plans to inform future planning efforts and ensure broad participation in the development of the next system strategic plan.

- Planning Support: We continue to develop tools and training materials to guide our system partners in implementation, alignment, and long-term strategy execution.
- Strategic Planning Platform: We are replacing our strategic planning platform that is being discontinued by the vendor. This new system offers enhanced tracking, collaboration, and reporting.

Through these and related efforts, we continue to build the infrastructure and capacity needed to support planning across the WSU system, while remaining responsive to evolving institutional priorities.
