TOPIC: Career and Technical Student Organization Presentation

PRESENTED BY:

Dr. Sarah Heath, Associate Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs/Career & Technical Education and Career and Technical Education Student Organization Representatives

EXPLANATION:

The Colorado Community College System Educational Services Division Office of Career & Technical Education offers world class Career & Technical Student Organizations (CTSO) to all CTE learners across Colorado. These organizations prepare secondary and postsecondary students for productive citizenship and leadership roles in their communities. The career and technical student organizations (CTSO) are regarded as an integral part of Colorado's career and technical education.

The organizations provide a unique program of career and leadership development, motivation, and recognition for secondary and post-secondary students enrolled in Career and Technical Education programs. In Colorado each CTSO has been developed as a powerful instructional tool that is integrated into the local districts' Career and Technical Education curriculum.

Dedicated classroom teachers provide organized curriculum-oriented activities that help students gain career, leadership, and personal skills that maximize employability and the ability to become productive citizens in the workforce, home, and community. Colorado Community College System CTE Assistant Program Directors serve as the "executive directors" of each state recognized CTSO.
