The ASWB Annual Meeting next week in San Diego will be one of the largest gatherings in ASWB history, with voting delegates from 56 jurisdictions! This attendance is the latest evidence of the strength of our association. Together, we thrive because of you—our engaged members. The reports you will hear from your regulatory colleagues at the Annual Meeting reflect the hard work of our members. They're grounded in the expertise and commitment you bring to our shared mission of public protection.

As we come together to celebrate the values that unite us, I want to express just how vital each of you is to our mission. Our strength truly lies in our unity, and it's your passion and dedication that drive ASWB's work. Together, we navigate the complexities of social work regulation, ensuring that our collective voice resonates loud and clear. Your contributions and insights are what make YOUR association vibrant and effective.

In gratitude,
Stacey
