From the Office of the CEO

The deadline for submitting nominations for FSMB's annual awards, which recognize individuals who have excelled in protecting the public through medical regulation, has been extended to January 13.

Does a staff or board member of your board deserve recognition for significant contributions after a long career in medical regulation? Has someone on or at your board recently led an initiative that has been especially impactful? I encourage you to give this opportunity some consideration and to also ask others at your board or organization who might be worthy of such a nomination.

The awards, which include the Award of Merit, the Leadership Award, the Distinguished Service Award, and the Lifetime Achievement Award, will be presented at FSMB's Annual Meeting in Seattle in April 2025.
